

One of the most beautiful villages in the wonderful southern Italy

Affrancare

The ancient center of Castellabate rises 280 m above the sea level, but you can reach the marina in a few minutes. Lose yourself in the tiny streets, among the ancient stones, in the narrow passages between the houses. Enjoy the sea wind by walking in the alleys or in the main square, or sitting on a bench at Belvedere.

Talk to people...they are friendly and hospitable. And go to eat in whatever restaurant and eat and eat...the food is very good everywhere!

Many greetings
